

Health Canada Approves EMS Purgo as a Disinfectant

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE - EMS/NR 011221

January 12, 2021

Melbourne, FL - EMS today announced that its popular Purgo All Purpose Antimicrobial Cleaner has been registered by Health Canada as a disinfectant able to kill 99.99% of bacteria, fungi and viruses.

Purgo is an all-natural, non-staining formula safe to use on most any surface or fabric. Purgo is used around the world at food processing processing facilities, homes, hotels, restaurants, schools, day care facilities, offices, shops, buses, aircraft, and other public transportation, hospitals, kitchens, restrooms, kennels, exercise facilities, tanning/ beauty/barber/tattoo shops, among other uses.

"Because Purgo contains no bleach or quaternary ammonia it can be used many times a day without damaging surfaces or equipment," said Tim Otto, Vice President of EMS. "Our world today requires disinfecting so much so often, it's no wonder a natural product that is non-skin irritating and non-corrosive is being sought after in new markets."

"We're excited to offer Purgo to our distributors throughout Canada," said Theo Malapanis, President of Environmental Safety Solutions an EMS distribution partner for Canada. "In addition to the original Purgo brand, we will also offer white label versions of these cleaners, wipes and hand sanitizers. We've already partnered with Alera Skin Products to make the products available through Canadian pharmacies and personal care providers."
